

Apply Now to Have Your Class be Part of the ASA TRAILS Teaching Seminar Program!

Want to integrate TRAILS into your graduate teaching seminar? This program will help you enhance the learning process for your graduate students and advance the scholarship of teaching and learning in Sociology. Applications are now being accepted for Fall 2019. Students receive free access to TRAILS for six months.

Requirements for any participating course:

- The course is a graduate level teaching seminar.
- The course plan/syllabus includes a structured plan for students to familiarize themselves with TRAILS resources in at least one subject area or one pedagogical approach.
- Students in the course prepare at least one teaching resource for possible submission to TRAILS.
- Course instructors review a first draft of student teaching materials and provide feedback for revision prior to students' submitting their materials to TRAILS.
- Professor participates in on-ramping conversation with TRAILS Editor.

Preferred elements for participating courses:

- The course plan/syllabus for the graduate seminar is well designed and reflects best practices in scholarly teaching.
- Students in the courses are given an opportunity to test the effectiveness of the teaching activities they develop.
- The courses selected to participate in the ASA TRAILS Teaching Seminar Initiative reflect the broad range of graduate institutions and include a diverse student body.

Send applications to TRAILS@asanet.org. Please include a cover letter which addresses requirements and preferred elements for participating courses, plus a course plan/syllabus (draft acceptable) and related assignments as needed. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis and a maximum of 4 courses will be accepted.
